

Susan,

Your Angel Reading of February 27, 2004 was amazing. Your Readings for both Cathy and I were the perfect way to end our 'working' relationship at our j-o-b and transition into, not only a wonderful friendship that continues to grow, but what seemed like the most natural transition into your new endeavors with Angel Readings and Spiritual Awakenings.

At the time you did the Reading, I had no doubt in your abilities, but definitely didn't understand the messages that you were sharing. You took the time to write out the messages for me and advised to give it 6 months and it would make more sense.

On September 8th, 2004, I re-read your Reading and wrote you this email.

Susan,

I just wanted to send this back to you and tell you how unbelievable this is.

In the past month, I have started an online Mommy group for my kids and I to find new friends. I have 33 moms already and am having 9+ moms and their kids at my house this Saturday for a playdate.

Yes, you read that right...MIA is having a social gathering (not family) voluntarily at my house!!!

I never doubted you, of course, but you said 6 months and here we are.

I can't wait to plan lunch so we can talk.

Unbelievable!

- Mia

P.S. I'm still waiting to figure out the 'miracle' one, but I'm sure it will make sense soon.

After that email, I did learn that the 'miracle' we were waiting for was Remission for my Step-mom's battle with breast cancer. When she gave me the news, it was almost instantaneous that I knew it was the miracle we'd been waiting for.

The funny thing now is that this Reading still applies, even 2+ years later. I continue to be blessed with miracles daily and my focus DID truly change when my daughter was born. I completely understand my calling now and it truly did begin with the playgroup I started. Without that playgroup, I wouldn't have been presented with a new opportunity that, without a doubt, is where I'm supposed to be. I have always know that I am supposed to help children, but I now know have the vehicle to make that happen. I'm on the right path to reach that destiny and it all began with your Reading that allowed me to open my eyes and be ready for it.

Thank you for always being supportive and knowing how to reach people, even when they're not reachable!

Love and Hugs,

Mia E.

Hello Susan,

I just want to thank you again for your "readings" at our Member Appreciation Night in October. The readings were very well received by our members and they truly look forward to you coming back to another one of our events. As you may have surmised, our membership base is of a more 'conservative' nature so getting them to relax and have fun with the readings is always a little bit of a challenge. But, judging by the laughs, tears and "thank yous", you really seemed to make a connection during your brief visits. Please stay in touch as I am sure to be looking for you to come back in 2007.

Hi Susan,

"Thanks again for your intuitive skills in recognizing that I had a negative situation I'd been dealing with for the last few months. Without me saying a word on the subject you picked-up that I was in a "situation". It was true. I had been questioning my friendship ability regarding a longtime friend and her ending of our friendship. You confirmed it was not my perception that was off - but hers :))) You said, "Trust your instincts." What a relief to have this heaviness of heart lifted! I finally feel free and ready to move on. Thank you!!!"

In the five years that I have known Sue I can honestly say that she is a "tell it like it is" person. I have turned to her so many times precisely for this reason - because she comes from a place of truth and honesty. In the readings she has done with me she has always offered ways for me to understand where I am on my journey and what I need to change. Her attention is undivided and she talks to you as if you are part of her, because she truly does care for each person as if she is connected to him/her. The love she feels for every living being emanates from her. She is a living testimony to how we each should live and this is obvious in the work she has chosen to do in her life – that of helping people connect again and grow closer to the life-giving force of the Universe.
